

Ravi Prakash Srivastava, Scientist, National Geophysical Research Institute (CSIR) received the prestigious CSIR Young Scientist Award for the year 2010 in the field of Earth, Atmosphere, Ocean & Planetary Sciences. Earlier he held a postdoctoral position (2008-2009) at the University of Texas at Austin, USA under the BOYSCAST fellowship, awarded by Department of Science and Technology, Govt. of India. He is also the recipient of Young Scientist Award (2008) of Indian Science Congress Association. Dr. Ravi's primary research interests are fractal analysis and inversion of geophysical data in which he produced several publications and a patent

Dr. Ravi Prakash Srivastava received the Young Scientist Award from Sri. Prithviraj Chavan Hon. Minister of Science and Technology and Vice President of CSIR in the presence of Prof. S.K.Brahmachari, Director General, CSIR.

